

DEATH AND TRUTH

Sell your story.

ACROSS

1 existing or available in large quantities; plentiful 4 an important assignment given to a person or group of people 7 acting with or characterized by uncontrolled, strong, rough force 9 unlawful sexual activity and usually sexual intercourse carried out forcibly or under threat of injury against a person's will 10 the provision of what is necessary for the health, welfare, maintenance, and protection of someone or something 12 to move through water by movements of the arms and legs 13 acceptable and appropriate in a particular situation; beautiful; light-haired 14 a circular ornamental headdress worn by a monarch as a symbol of authority 15 a person's ability to think and reason; the intellect 16 a large and disorderly crowd of people; especially one bent on riotous or destructive action 17 a feeling of stress and worry that you have because you are trying to do too much; to draw tight 19 a person who is loved, admired, or respected a lot 20 a person who tells lies 21 an involuntary quivering movement 23 the organ in the body of a woman or other female mammal in which a baby develops before birth; the uterus 24 a hollow place in a solid body or surface 27 a person who is admired for their courage, outstanding achievements, or noble qualities 29 intense sorrow, especially caused by someone's death 30 health care that focuses on the palliation of a terminally ill patient's pain and symptoms and attending to their emotional and spiritual needs at the end of life 34 not moving or making a sound 35 an undergarment worn by women to support the breasts 39 a baby's bed or cot, typically one mounted on rockers 40 to express dissatisfaction or annoyance about something 41 a spectacle or display, typically an impressive one 42 to burn the surface of something with flame or heat 43 a

DOWN

1 to achieve or complete successfully 2 an effort to achieve or complete a difficult task or action 3 to shake involuntarily, typically as a result of anxiety, excitement, or frailty 4 compassion or forgiveness shown towards someone whom it is within one's power to punish or harm 5 covered or enveloped so as to conceal from view 6 a television or radio programme consisting of reports about recent events 7 to eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth 8 the action or practice of inflicting severe pain or suffering on someone as a punishment or in order to force them to do or say something 11 to experience and deal with something that is painful or unpleasant without giving up; to hold out against 13 great trust or confidence in something or someone; strong belief in the doctrines of a religion 17 a thing that represents or stands for something else, especially a material object representing something abstract 18 the function assumed or part played by a person or thing in a particular situation 22 a religious or other solemn ceremony or act; a social custom, practice, or conventional act 23 to make twisting, squirming movements or contortions of the body 25 to move something from a lower to a higher position; to elevate 26 to cause severe and disabling damage to; to deprive of the ability to function normally 28 to arrive at; get as far as 31 a child whose parents are dead 32 to compress or squeeze forcefully so as to break, damage, or distort in shape 33 freedom from disturbance; tranquillity 35 a heavy load that is difficult to carry 36 the spiritual life force energy or healing power that permeates the universe in Melanesian and Polynesian mythology 37 being a single person who communicates or makes arrangements between two people or groups who are unwilling or unable to meet or deal directly with each other 47 to record something in writing; to give attention to something 48 to make a serious or formal promise to give or do something 50 to shed tears, typically as an expression of distress, pain, or sorrow 51 to shake slightly and uncontrollably as a result of being cold, frightened, or excited 55 a line separating two countries, administrative divisions, or other areas 57 an event or action that apparently contradicts known scientific laws and is hence thought to be due to supernatural causes 58 a period of stormy weather 59 an agreement entered into by two or more parties for their mutual benefit, especially in a business or political context 60 to make an attempt or effort to do something; to subject someone to trial 61 a momentary or partial view; see or perceive briefly or partially unit or thing; the lowest cardinal number 38 change the position, direction, or focus of 40 a system of words, letters, figures, or symbols used to represent others, especially for the purposes of secrecy 43 damaged or spoiled to a certain extent; made less perfect, attractive, useful, etc. 44 an arm or leg of a person or four-legged animal, or a bird's wing 45 a surface, typically of glass coated with a metal amalgam, which reflects a clear image 46 giving pleasure or satisfaction; pleasant or attractive 49 to move out of or away from something and become visible 51 a usually short piece of music with words 52 profoundly immoral and wicked 53 a mark left on the skin or within body tissue where a wound, burn, or sore has not healed completely 54 to cause a wound, injury, or person to become sound or healthy again 56 not found in large numbers and so of interest or value